28 U.S.C. § 157(b); and no additional notice being required except as provided herein; and, after due deliberation, the Court having determined that the Motion establishes good and sufficient cause for the relief granted hereby; now, therefore,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT:

1. The Motion is granted as provided herein.
2. The Moving Parties are authorized pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2004 to conduct an examination of the Former Purdue Executives, the Independently Represented Directors and Officers, and NRF, in each case as defined in the Motion, on the topics identified in the Motion, including, without limitation, by seeking electronically stored information and other documents in their respective possession, custody, or control, and by conducting depositions, and to issue subpoenas in connection with such examinations pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2004(c) (the “Subpoenas”).
3. The foregoing examinations shall be subject to the assertion of any applicable privilege; provided, that if a document or other information required to be produced hereunder is withheld on the basis of privilege, the withholding party shall provide a proper privilege log at the time and place for production.
4. This Court retains jurisdiction with respect to all matters arising from or related to the implementation of this Order.
5. The Official Committee, the Debtors, the NCSG, the Ad Hoc Committee, and the representatives of the Former Purdue Executives, Independently Represented Directors and Officers, and NRF shall meet and confer not only to attempt in good faith to resolve any disputes over any Subpoenas but also to efficiently coordinate the issuance of and compliance with the Subpoenas. In furtherance of the foregoing, on a going forward basis the Official Committee, the Debtors, the NCSG, and the Ad Hoc Committee shall record all time and expenses on this discovery matter and report the aggregate sum to each other on a weekly basis and also on a weekly basis discuss any cost containment issues.
